

Emergency Deviations

Federal Energy Regulatory Commission regulations require that PSE&G post Emergency Deviations from the Standards of Conduct in emergency circumstances affecting the reliability of the transmission system and the steps taken to keep the system in operation.

There are no Emergency Deviations at this time.